Dear Beatitudes Families,

We've been living with the coronavirus pandemic for seven months now, and the spread of COVID-19 is still going strong around the country and the world. As this pandemic wears on, it's so tempting to get COVID complacent right now. We are looking at the rates of infection coming down in Arizona and think that we can start relaxing a bit. But, we are still seeing more cases per day than we had prior to the Arizona Governor's Stay at Home Executive Order in May and we are still seeing community spread. Health experts say that this is not the time to relax. We have to continue to mask, practice social distancing and not attend large gatherings. These preventive measures will be needed for some time in the future. While we would like to get back to our pre-pandemic normal, the reality is that we have a long way to go before this pandemic is over. But it's most important not to give up.

We are constantly vigilant here at the campus. We continue to monitor for COVID-19 symptoms every day and we continue to do regular staff testing. So far, we have administered 3,209 diagnostic COVID-19 tests and 314 serology (antibody) tests on our staff. Last Tuesday, we tested 214 employees and contractors. We did receive a positive result on a caregiver who works in the Virginia G. Piper Early Memory Support neighborhood. The staff member was last at work on Monday, September 12, and is at home in quarantine. We conducted contact tracing and contacted individuals who may have had contact with this person. Out of an abundance of caution, we are testing all appropriate residents in the Piper neighborhood for COVID-19. Please refer to the COVID-19 dashboard at the end of this letter for complete information about the campus data.

Beatitudes Campus is still using utmost caution as we begin to ease restrictions on visitation and gatherings. We always use the data as the guide and will not pull back the measures we have put in place unless we are trending in the right direction. As I stated in my previous letter, we are pleased to allow limited family visitation (one person or couple once a week) in Independent Living, as well as in our licensed areas. Please refer to the visitor guidelines that we have posted on our website (<https://beatitudescampus.org/beatitudes-family/>) and click on "Visitor Guidelines." As a reminder, families and friends must complete the Visitor Attestation Form or you will be unable to enter the campus. We will be closely monitoring the data to ensure the safety of our residents and staff to ensure visitation is safe. As we had a staff member test positive in the Piper Early Memory Support area, we will not be allowing visitation in that neighborhood, until the results of the resident testing are in.

This evening marks the beginning of Rosh Hashanah, and my wish to all of you is that the year ahead will be filled with peace, happiness and good health. Shanah Tovah.

My best,

Michelle Just, President and CEO
